Former Soldier and Trainer of Prize Fighters Brought From San Francisco; Couple Given 'Once Over' By Clerks

Insurance Company Sleuths Aid in Arrests; Decoto Is Reticent On Nature of Evidence Against the Prisoners

James Carey and W. L. Curley of San Francisco, arrested last night as suspects in the Alvarado Bank robbery, were taken to Alvarado this afternoon.

They were only partially identified as connected with the theft of $25,000 and the shooting of August May, bank president.

Curley's second trip, last night, when he was taken to Alvarado, Theodore Leydecker, clerk in the bank, said Carey was one of the robbers. Mrs. Christina Anderson, bookkeeper, and others who had seen the men believed he was not.

Two of the robbers were said to have looked much alike. Carey and Curley, who are chums, resemble each other.

Ezra Decoto, district attorney, who accompanied the men to the bank this afternoon, said shortly after arrest that their identification remained only partial.

SUSPECTS TO BE TAKEN TO BEDSIDE OF MAY.

The two men were to be returned to Oakland and taken to the bedside of August May, wounded president of the bank, who is in Merritt hospital.

Arrest at 4 o'clock this morning at the Rosslyn hotel in San Francisco of Curley brought into the city of Sheriff Barker and Alameda county officers the fourth man to be held in connection with the Alvarado Bank robbery investigation.

The third man, Carey, was brought to Oakland from San Francisco by Private Detective A. J. Kane, working for the insurance company which indemnified the Alvarado Bank.

According to Ezra Decoto, district attorney, the men are alleged to be members of a gang designated as suspects in the killing of Policemen in Chicago restaurant and turned over to Sheriff Barker, George Helms, county detective, and Alvin Karpis, deputy district attorney.

Later Harry and Joseph Soares, deputy sheriff, went to the Rosslyn hotel, and there early this morning found Curley. Carey is 29, a trainer of boxers.

Curley and Carey denied knowledge of the Alvarado robbery and set up alibi claims which are being traced. The county officers say Carey admitted he had not been working with the detectives and Sheriff Barker's men had been watching the San Franciscans for several days before the arrests, tracing clues that led in the direction of the bank.

Evidence showing connection of Carey and Curley with Paul Durney and Edgar Thornton, already held, has not been given out by the district attorney.

Vanderlip Was Harding Agent Is Colby Report

Local Engineer Represented in Role of Pseudo Envoy to Soviet Regime

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Colby announced today that Commissioner Young at Riga had informed the State Department that Washington Vanderlip, who recently obtained concessions in Siberia, was reported to have told Richard B. Russell, Russian-British viki premier, that he represented Senator Harding, the Republican presidential candidate.

The commissioner's despatch, dated October 20, said Lenin had informed H. C. Wells, a British writer, that Vanderlip had made certain proposals to the Soviet government at Moscow looking to the recognition of the Bolshevik government by the United States.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—It was authorized today here on behalf of the syndicate represented by Washington D. Vanderlip, now in Copenhagen, that Vanderlip represents purely personal business interests here and elsewhere in the West. It was said that Vanderlip and those he represents have no connection, either personal or political, with Senator Harding, and that their interest in the Siberian venture is a purely commercial enterprise, without political significance.

Disguised as a Russian and aided by his fluent use of that language, Washington D. Vanderlip of Oakland, has entered the heart of Soviet Russia and there secured mining, oil and fishery concessions for a group of Pacific Coast financiers.

As a result of his negotiations the American financiers acquire a sixty-year lease on a vast tract of land in Northeastern Siberia with the exclusive right to develop coal, oil and fisheries. A wire from Vanderlip describes the tract as "all Northeastern Siberia east of the 160th meridian, including the peninsula of Kamchatka, an area of some 400,000 square miles. Active operations on the tract are to be started in the spring.

DARING AND ROMANCE ATTEND HIS JOURNEY

The present legitimate American expedition is one of romance and daring. Setting out alone from Los Angeles, where he lived for some time after he left this city, he went to the Arctic regions, where he spent some time in studying methods of entering the country of Lenin and Trotsky. His wife, who has been in Oakland until a week ago, accompanied him to the Arctic machinery of government to search for him in case no word came out of Russia by November 1.

A telegram announcing the success of his plan was received by Vanderlip today. It is said:

STORIES OF REVOLT IN MOSCOW DENIED

"I am highly amused at the stories about rebellions in Russia. Moscow is as safe as any city in the world. Reports of rebellion are false and I believe, foreign propaganda designed to prevent legitimate American business activity in this great Russian market. I have confidence in their part to carry out any agreement we may enter into."

Vanderlip arrived in Oakland at 1550 Madison Street and later at the 20 Nido apartments, until the United States entered the war. He was given national prominence with the invention of a device for submarine patent, which was made the object of spirited bidding by various allied governments in 1915. He is interested in mines in Mariposa county, and has been a mining engineer for some years. Mrs. Vanderlip, who has relatives in Oakland, was a recent visitor in this city.

Revenue Agents Land Four in Dragnet

Information charging violations of the prohibition law was filed today in the United States District Court in San Francisco against George L. Barker, 255 Third Street, and his wife, Mrs. Barker, 230 Broadway, and Ray E. Hartson, 230 Magnolia Street, all charged with illegally having liquor in their possession, and an additional charge of transporting liquor.

The three men alleged to have moved a quantity of liquor from 2525 Filbert Street to 2701 Filbert Street.

CREMATION BAR TO TALK TO SPIRITS?

Eastbay Theosophists Take Issue With Flammarion, Who Says Burning Body Prevents Communication With Dead

Sentiment of Members Is That Cremation Is Purification and May Be Liberation of the Spirit After Departure

Eastbay Theosophists today took issue with Camille Flammarion, French scientist and astronomer, who in his eightieth year has given forth his opposition to cremation.

"Americans are depriving themselves of the possibility of contact and communication with the spirits of their dead because of the practice of cremation," Flammarion said, according to cable despatches today.

Cremation, a quick and sure purification, is desirable and should aid in the communication between the mundane and the spirit worlds rather than otherwise, according to Oakland and Berkeley theosophists.

"I am opposed to cremation," says Flammarion. "It constitutes not only excessive destruction, but one perhaps painful to the departed spirit. For they see us and hear us."

In opposition to this, the ideas of American theosophists, and among them Oakland and Berkeley workers, appear quite positive.

REGARDS CREMATION AS PURIFICATION

Although I cannot say that we have discussed it recently, I am sure it can be said that our ideas distinctly favor cremation, both as a purification, and, it may be, as a liberation of the spirit after death," said Miss Ella Schroeder, president of the Oakland Theosophical society, today.

"I think the best example of theosophical ideas on this line in Oakland is represented in the cremation of the late Mr. C. G. Wells, the author of the finest theosophical thinkers I have known, in connection with the west was to write, here, his interpretation of the Decalogue. It was a firm believer in cremation."

Some of the general theory of Eastbay theosophists, as opposed to Flammarion's subversive theory, that slow decomposition of the body could not be in the interest of liberation of the spirit.

RAPID OPERATION OF SAME PROCESS

"Cremation is but a rapid operation of the same process of oxidation found in decay. It was pointed out by John B. Stearns, who is president of the Berkeley Theosophical society, today.

"I think that our chief advocacy of cremation, amongst our members, who have died have been cremated, is that it is a quick and desirable purification. It will be very interesting to follow Mr. Flammarion in his efforts to liberate the spirit."

"I am sure, however, that the whole consensus of opinion among theosophists here is that burning of the body after death is desirable."

According to Flammarion, as set forth in a United Press cable today of an interview with him by Henry Wood, who is a new organizer of the staff correspondent in Paris, spirits may not be immortal, but it has been definitely established that death they continue for a time to exist about in the immediate vicinity of their former earthly habitations.

SAYS SPIRITS HOVER OVER EARTH FOR TIME

Flammarion, a new work, he says, contains records of thousands of cases that leave no doubt, according to the scientist, the spirits of the dead remain on earth and interest themselves in the affairs of the living. Whether, after this period, the spirits continue to be immortal, Flammarion declared frankly he does not know.

"I am not a spiritualist and refuse to make conclusions or build up a philosophy based on experiences in which credulity or auto suggestion play an important part, but there are spirits, there are haunted houses, apparitions and phantasms. Conversations are held with the dead. The dead are absolutely not collective hallucinations that can explain certain sounds, certain movements of objects, and above all, certain precise revelations previously unknown to anyone present. Apparently death changes spirits very little."

Italy Takes Guards, Trieste From Poet

ROME, Oct. 25.—The city of Trieste was occupied by Italian troops Sunday, according to telegrams from that place to the Courier d'Italia and the Idea Nazionale. A report had been circulated that a landing by Gabriele D'Annunzio was intended, but this did not materialize. D'Annunzio telegraphing from Trieste a denial of any intention to land at Trieste.

Officials at Trieste and appealed to their patriotism, the despatches add. He urged unity and discipline for the defense of the country and abstention from any attempt at reaction.

Child Dies From Burns at Bonfire

CLUB WOMEN IN HOT TILT OVER LEAGUE

Two-Page Appeal for Support of Pact and Phelan Stirs Up Regular Hornets' Nest of Protest and Severe Criticism

Cries of Trickery and Cheap Politics Are Heard: Meetings Are Called to Ascertain What It Is All About

Members of the California Federation of Women's Clubs are once more disrupted over the League of Nations project. Civil war threatens in local circles. Feminine leaders are frank in declaring that they have been "tricked" and "made victims of politicians."

The tumult has been precipitated by a two-page statement carried in the October number of the "Clubwoman," the official organ of the state federation, calling November 2 as "the chance of the American woman to secure the League of Nations," naming Governor Cox as "America's champion for the league," declaring that Senator Phelan has and will again place California's vote on the League of Nations as "Yes," and charging that "the Republican party is attempting to steal votes from the league by falsely declaring it to be a partisan issue."

Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald of Fresno, prominent Democrat and a delegate to the national democratic convention at St. Louis, Mo., last week, is editor of the "Clubwoman." She is the announced candidate to succeed Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley as president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

The official organ was issued early in the week. Scores of women, including Mrs. Schloss, have not yet received their copies. It has been intimated by some of those who are engaged in the controversy that the issue has been held up on purpose.

Communications are being prepared to present the criticisms of the club leaders before the state executive board. The recall of Mrs. Fitzgerald as editor has been hinted at.

DISPUTE TO BE AIRD

OFFICERS and department chairman of the federation with the executive boards of the four northern districts of the state will meet in regular conference on Saturday in Berkeley when the issue will be thrashed out.

Mrs. Helen Mudd of the Oakland Club, a pioneer Republican, has an opinion. "The issue is being raised before that body tomorrow, asking for action," Mrs. H. C. Welch, president of the Glenview Club, has voiced an indignant protest that the federation has been used for partisan politics and announces she will present the issue before her members, probably at the regular meeting on November 4, although it is to be a strictly non-partisan meeting.

Molly Wynter Begins Expose of Spirit Frauds

Molly Wynter, celebrated English medium, who convinced Sir A. Conan Doyle and Superintendent Thomas of Scotland Yard that she could communicate with the dead, begins her remarkable revelation of fraud in today's TRIBUNE. Read it on Page 28.

Her confession that she "faked" the spirits and other phenomena that made her famous among scientists and psychics has stirred England to its depths. How she did it, producing "ghost" spirit music, tapping, table tipping and like manifestations, including drifting through air, is told in the confessions.

Prof. Yoshi Saburo Kuno contributes the second installment of "Expose of the Japanese Medium" in today's issue of THE TRIBUNE. It will be found on Page 17.

These agreements on the part of Poland, he said, were compromise measures, which had been gained at the price of territorial concessions to the Polish government.

Policeman Is Shot to Death in Watsonville

Believed to Have Been Murdered While Taking Prisoner to City Jail

BY UNITED PRESS LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WATSONVILLE, Oct. 25.—Policeman William Watson, who was taken to the city jail, was found shot to death early today near the city jail. It is believed he was slain by a prisoner whom he was taking to the jail. Watson's body is being searched for the murderer.

The body was discovered about 25 yards from the jail early today. No weapon was found and Watson's revolver was in his holster. All of the cartridges were intact.

Watson was last seen about 11 o'clock last night, playing under a street lamp. He was wearing a dark suit and a light-colored shirt. He seemed to be intoxicated. This man, who was about 35 years old, may have killed the patrolman while the latter was leading him to the jail. It is believed.

Another theory advanced is that Watson may have been shot by one of two men who were seen near the jail early today. Watson was taken to the city jail, where he was found shot to death.

Which was 24 years old and married.

BROTHER OF DEAD KING ASKED TO BE RULER OF GREECE

ATHENS, Oct. 26. (By the Associated Press.)—The throne of Greece, made vacant by the death of King Alexander, will be offered to Prince Paul, third son of former King Constantine, it is officially announced.

ATHENS, Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press.)—Many difficulties regarding succession to the Greek throne will result from the death of King Alexander, which occurred last night. There is every indication the throne will be offered to Prince Paul, third son of former King Constantine; but, as a condition, King Constantine must formally abdicate, and Prince George, older brother of Prince Paul, must renounce his rights. King Alexander died from wounds received when a pet monkey bit him.

It is probable that King Constantine will at first refuse to meet these conditions, but it is understood Premier Venizelos will produce arguments of some importance. Constantine's financial status is well known and it is thought now that the premier will agree to restore the former king's suppressed pension if the above terms are accepted.

Only in the event of Constantine's persistent refusal would there be a question of the establishment of a republic, but Premier Venizelos is of the opinion that Greece is not ripe for that form of government. There is also a possibility of offering the throne to a foreign prince, but the premier is reluctant to take such a step.

In connection with the pictures there will be students who will explain each group of pictures. A musical entertainment will also be given by the school orchestra and chorus.

Four Firemen Injured; Task Calls for 14 Companies' Work

Scene at fire in downtown section of Oakland. Flames gutted the Angelus rooming house and several stores. Firemen were hurt fighting the stubborn blaze.

Helpless Man Carried to Safety by Police in Blaze at Republicans Hold Eleventh and Webster Streets

Oakland firemen fought one of the stubbornest fires in the city in many months yesterday afternoon and last night in the building on the north-west corner of Eleventh and Webster streets.

In the light four of their number were injured by glass from a falling window. The four are: LIEUTENANT JAMES DONOVAN, 1233 First avenue. FRANK COURANT, Engine No. 12. C. L. REICHAERT, 2010 Seventh street. JOHN MILNE, Engine No. 12.

The firemen pumped water into the lower floor and basement of the three-story building from 3:20 o'clock in the afternoon, when the fire was discovered almost until midnight.

PAPER STOCK WRECKED
The stock in this section of the building, that of the J. T. Monahan Wholesale Paper and Twine company, practically filled the two floors. Much of it had to be dragged to the street.

In the two stories above the warehouse, Mrs. R. J. Sandusky conducts a rooming-house, known as the Angelus. This part of the building was filled with smoke and somewhat damaged by water. Twenty families occupy these rooms. More than a score fled to the street on the alarm, but Patrolman J. H. Connelly, who entered the place, had to carry J. C. Coombs, a lodger, from his bed and down a ladder to the street. Coombs was suffering from blood poisoning in his feet and could not walk. He is 45 years old.

CAUSE NOT KNOWN
Cause of the fire was uncertain. When discovered heavy smoke was starting to roll from subcellar entrances. The fact that the building formerly was occupied by a Chinese establishment and that many wooden partitions then put in place had been left in the rooms when the paper and twine stock was stored, made the blaze difficult to reach.

An early estimate of the loss is $34,000. Fourteen fire companies worked on the blaze.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MACSWINEY TO BE ELABORATE

By LLOYD ALLEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.
LONDON, Oct. 26.—Impressive funeral honors will be accorded Terence MacSwiney, who began life as a clerk and died in a spectacular manner for Ireland.

The home office promised today there will be no interference with plans of Irish leaders, who announced MacSwiney's body will lie in state in St. George's cathedral, to be carried later in solemn procession to entrain for the journey to an Irish grave.

Officials said the only restriction on the funeral services will be that no Sinn Fein firing squad will be permitted to officiate at the grave.

SINN FEINERS ARRIVE
The deputy lord mayor of Cork arrived here today with a bodyguard of fifty Sinn Feiners and representatives of many Irish societies. It was reported that Dail Eireann, the Irish parliament, may attend the funeral in a body.

After the inquest, expected to be concluded Wednesday morning, MacSwiney's body will be taken to St. George's cathedral. It will lie in state under a guard of his followers until 11 a. m. Thursday. At that time, a solemn high mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Mannix and Bishop Cotter of Portsmouth.

Late in the afternoon a funeral procession will be formed to pass the Sinn Fein to prevent any demonstration. They urged that the marchers refrain from carrying flags or banners or conversing with spectators. With three of Ireland's hunger strikers now dead, it was expected that three more in the Cork jail were near collapse. Joseph Murphy, the third to die, passed away in his 76th day of fasting.

AIR OF ANXIETY
Despite the quiet that fell upon the island with the announcement of MacSwiney's death, there was an air of anxiety here. Heavy guards continued to patrol the grounds of British prison. In Ireland, extra guards were established, and precautions taken against possible reprisals.

Downing street, the residence of Premier Lloyd George, was closed to the public, a cordon of police stretching across the entrance from Whitehall.

Sinn Fein leaders in Ireland joined in requesting that no disorder be permitted. In this they were supported by Father Dominic, MacSwiney's chaplain.

The deputy lord mayor, in a statement, accused the government of murdering MacSwiney and Mac Carthain.

ADJOURNMENT IN ANTIOCH SUIT IS TO NOVEMBER 3

Completion of the main argument of the defense in the suit of Antioch against up-river diversionsists was reached today when Stanley Moore finished his address to the court and an adjournment was taken until November 3.

The home for Antioch will take up the argument when the case is next called and is expected to devote at least three days to his argument.

Water tests at Sacramento and other points were read today before the argument started to show that the salinity decreased in October in comparison with the high salt content of September.

DELTA WATER IS SALTY
Moore cited the figures given by the defense to show, when compared to government figures of other years, that the salinity for September has not increased in the last twelve years, and declared that the statements made that the water was salty at Sacramento were not correct.

"We have been making tests all along and are still doing so," he said, "and the statements by Mr. Patterson that the sea water has reached Sacramento show the reason and necessity for such tests."

Moore also argued that government diversions would increase the salinity in the delta region and that the river at the lower end was becoming changed from an inland stream to an arm of the bay. He cited opinions of government experts to show that water in the lower San Joaquin was not pure in the fullness of mineralization and also called attention to the great irrigation projects in the neighborhood of the delta itself.

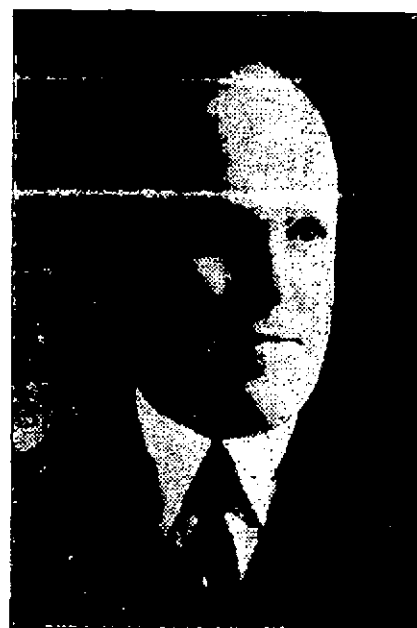

"At Byron and Tracy," he said, "there are 55,000 acres under irrigation and the Knightsen project has its application in. Are these great development plans to be halted because of Antioch and is that city to be a supreme arbiter for the whole river valley?"

Pope Benedict Says Prayer for M'Swiney

ROME, Oct. 26.—News of the death of Terence MacSwiney was received at the Vatican from the Associated Press today, the news being communicated to Monsignor Cerretti, papal under secretary of state, who was deeply impressed by the tidings.

When Pope Benedict was informed of the death of the lord mayor, he showed deep regret, and then knelt, remaining a long time in silent prayer.

The death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney has caused consternation among the numerous Irish people here.

Only a short time before news of the lord mayor's death was received, Superior General Hennessy, of the Christian Brothers of St. Mary's, Dublin, was received by the pope. The superior general declared that the death of MacSwiney would render the situation in Ireland still worse, as the Irish volunteers would consider themselves entitled to revenge. This, in his view, would result in reprisals by troops and police, and there would be reckless, indiscriminate shootings, with innocent victims, murders, raids, burnings and unspeakable violence.

Harding Tells Mistake Of Democrats and Says People's Trust Is in G.O.P.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Senator Harding in a final pre-election statement to the American people made public here last night, declared the Republican party "goes to the people assured that they will recognize its superiority as an instrumentality of administration and that in the election now impending they will give it the certificate of their confidence and trust."

The Republican party nominee criticized the Democratic administration of government affairs, declaring "the nation is determined to be done with democracy, under the mere guise of democratic forms." The Republican party, he asserted, has proposed in its platform and developed in the utterances of its leaders, a program which contemplates equal opportunity for all and "recognizes the vices of exploitation and profiteering."

AMERICA MUST DECIDE. Senator Harding summarized his party's position as follows:

"The Republican party purposes such an association of nations as will most effectively further the aspiration for world wide and permanent peace without sacrificing any part of the independence of the American nation. It believes America can and must bear its full part in the responsibilities of the world, but it always believes that America alone must decide what that part shall be."

Senator Harding said that the American electorate this year, the Republican party has in mind both the record of service from its beginning, whereof it is very proud, and the vision of opportunity for service in the future, which its spokesmen have presented during this campaign. We are asking that a great responsibility be imposed upon us. It is a responsibility that must be measured by both the gravity of the crisis that confronts the world and the incapacity with which the present administration has met the problems of the last four years. Unconscious as is the responsibility we seek, our party has no thought of evading, for it never has been a flatter of that.

DISASTER IS FACED. "Democratic economies and administrative policies had brought this country to the danger of disaster before the outbreak of the war in Europe. The vast expansion of our export trade and demands upon our producing facilities, which came with the war, saved us from ruin and disaster, but that phase has now passed and nothing but a return to those constructive and progressive policies which have always characterized the Republican administration can save us from early realization of the danger that confronted us at the middle of 1914."

"From the beginning of the war in Europe the Democratic administration steadfastly refused to prepare for the national defense in case we should be drawn into the struggle. It was apparent to most people that our country was in imminent danger of being drawn into the struggle. The Democratic party made its campaign on the basis that it had kept us out of war, and the promise to continue to keep us out. The when we found ourselves at last in the struggle, we were utterly unready for it, and our participation cost immeasurably more than it should have cost."

"An administration that when all the world was in conflagration, refused to realize the importance of preparedness, of course, could not be expected to realize while we were at war the necessity of preparing for peace. So we entered into peace quite as unready for it as we had been for war. Our economies were disorganized, our debt enormous, our foreign commerce devastated largely by supplying the necessities of war."

DENIED PEACE STATUS. "Instead of settling itself to remedying these conditions, the administration has devoted itself from the day of the armistice to promoting a project of world reorganization, in which America should bear the largest responsibilities of guaranteeing a new system of things. Instead of making legal peace as soon as actual peace had been won, the American people, alone of all the warring nations, were denied by their government the privilege of a return to the legal status of peace and to the enjoyments of those rights which they had temporarily surrendered under the circumstances of war. So long as war was on, Republicans upheld the hands of the administration, forgetting party considerations, and gave their vote in support of war measures far more generously than did their more generous opponents. Yet an autocratic administration repaid this loyalty with the demand, in the campaign of 1918, that Republicans be removed from every position of influence and power."

the country rejected. It was the first time in the history of this nation that an administration had been defeated in the midst of a foreign war. That defeat would have been ample admonition to any administration to its conduct of its own domestic policies and purposes. But it apparently was unheeded by the powers at Washington. Neglecting the acute domestic situation, the administration suddenly conceived an idea to make a budget for the year 1921. It was a budget of the kind that had been rejected by the country in the period before we were drawn into the war.

"So, while immediate and practical concerns were being neglected, while reconstruction and reorganization of our own country were forgotten, the administration was devoting itself to the chimera of world reorganization. The Republican congress that had been elected in the autumn of 1918 attempted to, and did, initiate measures to set on the right track once more. It devised a budget system in the hope of putting an end to the treasury and bringing economy and order into our national finances. But the president vetoed that measure. The administration went right on spending vast sums in excess of our revenues, offering no constructive inspiration or leadership, apparently forgetting our domestic difficulties in its enthusiasm for the chimera of world reconstruction."

Senator Harding said that the administration now about to retire from power, which seeks to have its policies perpetuated. The country will decline to give its confidence and its mandate to that party or those policies. It remembered that the Republican party fought the civil war and afterward restored and unified the nation. It believes that the Republican party is capable of repeating that service and, because it so believes, it is going to return the Republican party to power."

DEBATE WITH HOBBS ON POLICY. "The nation is determined to be done with democracy under the mere guise of democratic forms; it is determined that there shall be no return to the old order. The plain people who, on the whole, have been raised to a new and higher level, are not only convinced that they are entitled to remain on this new level, but that they must rely upon the constructive abilities of the Republican party to keep them there. It is our purpose to accomplish exactly this. While we will not suggest any suggestion of revolution or disintegration, we do stand for every measure of evolution and development that tends to carry the interests of the nation forward and upward."

"During the campaign now about ending, the Republican party has proposed in its platform, and developed in the utterances of its leaders, a program which guarantees equal opportunity for all. It recognizes the vices of exploitation and profiteering. It has declared for wage and price measures looking to co-operation in production and in marketing. It recognizes that, in all measures to preserve equality of opportunity, there must be a recognition of the fact that greed and cunning must be held in check if we are to insure that true character and worth shall be given every opportunity to share in the advantages that the community can extend to its members."

EXPECT PEOPLE'S TRUST. "The Republican party proposes in the realm of international affairs such an association of nations as will most effectively further the aspirations for world-wide and permanent peace without sacrificing any part of the independence of the American nation. It believes that America can and must bear its full part in the responsibilities of the world, but it always believes that America alone must decide what that part shall be. It goes to the people assured that they will recognize its superiority as an instrumentality of administration and that in the election now impending they will give it the certificate of their confidence and trust."

HARDING TELLS WOMEN OF HIS LEAGUE STAND

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Senator Harding defined his position on the League of Nations in a letter to Mrs. Anna C. Frost, chairman of the woman's division of the Republican State committee of Massachusetts, which was made public today.

"I do not know what words I could use," the letter said, "to make more clear the statement which I have made repeatedly that it is our open purpose that America shall do her part for an association with other nations in bringing about understanding and agreements in the interest of the preservation of peace and in the just and peaceful settlement of questions which might otherwise involve a resort to war in their adjustment. I have made my own purpose in this connection plain in every speech which I have made in the campaign."

"America, though, of course, have its full part in every worthy movement for the peace and the fraternization and well-being and progress of all the peoples of the world, but we Americans should decide the character and extent of our contribution, and we should not surrender our own peace, our control of our own destinies, and the independence of other nations, to the platform of expediency, or to the influence of any candidate who is not elected in the public interest."

Johnson Says Escape From League Is Gain

CANTON, Mass., Oct. 26.—Declaring unhesitatingly his opposition to the League of Nations, United States Senator Bruce Johnson, of California, addressed a meeting here tonight, the support of which was given by the support of William G. Harding for president.

"Many and honorable of our country have been misled to demand that we should join the League and to escape from it has been their hope of presidential election."

"Our first duty is to preserve our own independence from dependence and subordination, and this can be done only by rejection, as Harding says, of the League and by standing outside of the League."

COX WILLING TO ACCEPT LEAGUE RESERVATIONS

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 26.—Governor Cox of Ohio announced yesterday that if elected President he would sit down with the Senate and make an "agreement" upon the League of Nations and that his agreement should be determined by the senatorial elections.

"The executive will," the Democratic presidential candidate said, "should not control and it is 'unthinkable' he declared, that American membership in the league should be postponed two years, when the next senatorial election is held. American membership, he indicated, was the primary consideration. That he favored American participation with 'clarifying reservations' was reiterated by the governor."

Hailed by members of the governor's party as one of the most important of campaign developments, the candidate's announcement was in response to an open letter sent yesterday to Governor Cox and his legislative opponent, Senator Harding, by fifty of their supporters urging them to accept whatever revision of the League reservations two-thirds of the next Senate might approve.

COX'S STATEMENT. The governor's statement, issued during a rushing West Virginia tour, read:

"The situation is this. I have gone into the League with the League of Nations and I have clarified my reservations."

Senator Harding said that he was not interested in clarification, but in rejection. "I have every expectation that after November 2 much of the partisanship spirit that has been visited upon discussion of the league will have subsided. One-third of the seats of the Senate are to be filled this year. The people understand the issue and we will accept their expression at face value."

"I will, therefore, sit down with the Senate and reach an agreement about our going into this league. There is no other, and any talk of a new association is but idle phrase."

STABILIZE WORLD, PLEASE

"The important thing is to get a start and help to stabilize world conditions which vitally affect the interest and welfare of America. For us to remain out of the league for two years or until another election could be held would be unthinkable. If too much has to be given in compromise now, in order to insure our entrance into the league, the people themselves will have an opportunity to modify and correct later. It cannot be a matter of the exercise of merely the executive will. The popular will, as voiced at the polls, must control. The sort of agreement which I shall endeavor to obtain will be determined by the senatorial elections."

The governor's announcement follows on the heels of his statement in his Madison Square Garden speech last Saturday in New York city, in which he would compromise the reservation controversy. Attention also was called to the circumstances that it followed Elihu Root's statement that Governor Cox was as "unyielding" regarding article 10 as President Wilson.

AD CLUB'S DINERS HONOR ROOSEVELT

A luncheon meeting in memory of former President Roosevelt was held at the Hotel Oakland today noon by the Oakland Advertising Club. Roosevelt's birthday was October 27.

Rev. P. W. Silsby, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered an invocation, embracing a tribute to the great American statesman and soldier.

Fred McIlman, commander of Oakland Post No. 5, told the gathering that by taking the right of the people away from disinterested persons, it would be the case if Amendment No. 1 and No. 2 carry at the November 2 election, and placing it in the hands of a commissioner, would do away with Civil Service for all time to come.

"The commissioner, under this arrangement, would handle the prosecutor, judge and executor. The man, discharged, would already be convicted in the mind of the commissioner," said McIlman. "What chance would that man have of being given a fair and impartial hearing?"

"Civil Service stands practically on a tripod. First, there are examinations; then comes the rating for promotion under the merit system. Next, and the third leg of the tripod, is protection. You can not take

Edwards' Leaflet Backs Amendments

Pleading that the voter be not alarmed by the cry of "Wolf," Commissioner Edwards has issued a leaflet asking that the citizens vote for Amendments 1, 2 and 3 to the City Charter, relative to civil service and pensions, and against the Firemen's initiative project giving more pay to the firemen. Edwards says the firemen of Oakland are now the highest paid firemen in the world.

The leaflet is now being distributed in various city offices to voters who attend in. It is headed as follows:

"To the Voter: Don't be alarmed by the cry of Wolf. There is no wolf."

Then follows an explanation of the proposed charter amendments.

Upon the appearance of Commissioner Edwards' "Wolf-Wolf" circular, the Oakland firemen began a quiet investigation to see whether the circulars were being mailed out by city postage. The circular is against the firemen's initiative ordinance regarding pay.

According to both Commissioner Edwards and City Clerk Cummings, the circulars are not being mailed to anyone. They are being distributed by small boys.

When asked where the funds came from, City Clerk Cummings said they were given by persons favoring the cause.

The circulars are now all over town.

Impression which had gone abroad that the county is paying only $8 a day for its election officers is incorrect. He said the amount is $10 a day and that even at that figure about sixty declinations to serve have been received from persons who had expected to be on the various boards.

The city of Oakland, it is stated, has agreed to pay $2 additional to the same officers for the extra work on the city's separate ballot.

At the approach of the winter season Jay B. Nash, head of the playground department, announced a cut of three employees from the Lake Merritt boathouse payroll. Nash says that the past three months have been the most profitable on record for the boathouse.

FARMERS SEEK AID OF WOMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—That California women should participate more fully in state and national politics, and that they should be of assistance in checking agricultural views of men aspiring to office, was the expression of opinion made at a meeting of the Farmers' Protective League at the Palace Hotel.

Under the direction of Chairman Harry Lewis of Santa Ana, the gathering was called, and practically every phase of marketing and the handling of farm products was exhaustively discussed.

During the session, members of the league adopted a resolution calling for the state-wide extension of the organization. It was necessary, they declared, to organize for the protection of agricultural interests, and to this end, particular attention was paid to present political candidates.

The general support of men and women in the state was asked in the project.

G.A.R. Posts Thank City for Use of Hall

Commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic of the Eastbay district, today sent a letter to the city council and Mayor John L. Davis thanking the city officials for the free use of the memorial hall in the basement of the city hall. Permission to use the hall for a meeting place in the future is requested. The letter is signed by R. J. Ver-

PENCHANT FOR JAIL LEADS TO FORTUNE

CONCORDIA, Kan., Oct. 26.—Robert W. Patton's penchant for jail has brought him luck. He will probably share half of a $50,000 estate, according to relatives, who located him through a published interview which he gave a reporter when he sought to obtain winter lodging at the local jail.

Patton's sister at Seward, Neb., who had not heard from him for eight years, read of his longing for jail life, and hastened here with an attorney. Officials here were not hospitable and refused to board Patton. He continued his quest to Chester, Neb., where he was found. Patton will be taken to Lincoln, where the estate will be divided.

Monument Erected For Colored Heroes

MONTHS, Department of the Ardennes, France, Oct. 26.—The monument erected in honor of the colored soldiers of the 23rd United States infantry regiment, who died in this region during the stiff fighting of October, 1918, was unveiled here today. Funds for the shaft were left by the members of the regiment when they left this place for home.

All the local and military authorities were present, and vast throngs witnessed the unveiling. The bodies of Americans buried at Monthois shortly will be transferred to the cemetery at Romagne.

WOMEN of Great Eastbay

Informal Parties Are Planned For Week

Mrs. Dan Belden, who has come to California after several years of residence in the east, is being entertained informally by many of her close friends. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Charles Lovell has planned an informal afternoon at her home in Piedmont. Mrs. Belden is visiting here for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. William Ede, who has been east for several weeks, is expected to arrive in the middle of next month. Mrs. Ede is now visiting in New York.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Heidt and George Reynolds O'Connor, solemnized yesterday forenoon, at 11 o'clock. There were no attendants upon the couple, the service being read before only the immediate members of the family by Monsignor Charles A. Ramm of St. Mary's Cathedral. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Heidt, in Alameda.

LUNCHEON AT ST. FRANCIS.

Many crossed the bay yesterday to attend the luncheon given by Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, at the St. Francis hotel, for about thirty-five members of the Linden branch of the Baby Hospital Association. It was a social reunion of the members who have worked together throughout the entire year.

Miss Margaret Webster entertained a dozen of her closest friends at luncheon today, and with her guests later motored to the home of Mrs. Frank Muller, who entertained for Miss Laura Miller and Miss Dorothy Cawston.

WEDDING HEATH HOME.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Heath in Oak Knoll Terrace is to be the scene tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Marian Phillips and Henry Schmalz. Attending the bride-elect will be Mrs. Joseph Stanton McInerney as matron of honor and Mesdames Carson Donnellis, J. Lawrence Thomas and the Misses Bernice Eardley, Irene Collins, Irene Booth and Helen Denbigh will be bridesmaids. Russell House, Sacramento, is to be the best man.

The home of Mrs. C. O. G. Miller is to be the scene of a supper tomorrow evening, when Mrs. Miller will entertain for her niece, Mary, who will cross the bay for the affair.

Mrs. Ben Craven will be hostess at an informal afternoon November 3, at her home, with Miss Helen Conger as the guest of honor. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Craven was the guest of honor at an informal party given by Mrs. Arthur McHenry.

It has been decided to put the formal opening of the Berkeley Country Club golf links off until spring. The original plan was to open on Christmas day. The club is to have one of the most picturesque sites in the Contra Costa hills.

The exhibition of Miss Miriam Gersule's drawing and decorated designs at the Print Room in San Francisco on Monday will hear all the remarks of a reception, the young aspirant for honors having hosts of friends among the younger generation of artists and men who have a serious attitude toward art. And there are MISS IRMA LEE DAVIS of El Paso, Texas, who has been entertained here as the house guest of Mrs. Florence Pope.—Eve's Portrait.

Many on this side of the bay who have made their way through the California School of Fine Arts with the young girl.

Miss Gersule belongs to the Gersule family of San Francisco that for half a century has made a deep impression upon the social and financial life of California.

She and her parents have within the year returned from Paris, where the young artist worked in the Julian atelier.

RETROTHAL IS TOLD AT TEA.

At a tea given Saturday for 100 of her friends from both sides of the bay, the engagement of the hostess, Miss Daphne Scovell of Jordan Park, San Francisco, and Milton J. Murray of Eighth avenue, was formally announced. The affair was planned in compliment to Miss Myrtle Hendrick of Alameda, whose engagement was announced a short while ago, and Mrs. Lyman of Watsonville.

Miss Scovell has many friends in the college set as well as in her home city, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scovell, who are prominent in the insurance business. The wedding is to take place in the spring.

In honor of the Misses Myrtle and Mignon Hendrick of Alameda, cards have been sent out for a tea to be given at the Palace Hotel by Miss Florence George of San Francisco. Also George will entertain the afternoon of November 13.

Friday evening the Pt. Gamma Kanpas will give a Halloween dance, an informal affair, at Plymouth Center gymnasium. The personnel of the society includes a number of the high school set of Piedmont.

Miss Irma Lee Davis, who has been visiting here for some time at the home of Miss Ella Edwards, her former classmate at Nashville, Tenn., returned a few days ago to the South. Miss Edwards entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Edwards, in Berkeley, for her guest who also spent some time at the home of Mrs. Florence Pope, old friends of the family.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE, tell them so.

Ebell Asks 500 Members For Session

By EDNA E. KINARD
Ebell has apparently hitched its wagon to a star. With a membership somewhat in excess of 500, the board of directors in the November calendar has come boldly forth to announce that "five hundred members are wanted" to attend the regular business session on Tuesday afternoon, November 2. Moreover, the leaders express themselves as insistent that such a record be maintained throughout the year. For after all, what benefit is a business session unless some representative attendance is forthcoming and why should members complain when they have been so indifferent as to remain away from this important routine assembly if club affairs are not to their liking?

Club women are pledged, to join themselves with at least one study section. The pledge has not always been kept. With the revival of interest in the fundamentals of parliamentary law, Ebell has announced a special session for beginners in the helpful art, primarily for those with broken promises and the accommodation of the entire membership. Here, too, a 500 goal is set. The study hour immediately precedes the business session.

Next month the pioneer woman's club has before it the difficult task of adopting a new constitution and amendments to its by-laws and regulations. Perhaps the most interesting paragraph of the constitution is that which declares the purposes of Ebell. It follows:

"The object of this Society shall be the advancement of women in intellectual culture, industrial pursuits and the acquisition, holding, management and disposition of property to aid in the attainment of the first mentioned purpose."

"Postponing the annual meeting to May, inaugurating the fiscal year on May 1, dispensing with associate memberships, and raising the quorum necessary for the transaction of business from 15 to 25 are the principal changes which are proposed in the by-laws."

Henry B. Walthall, motion picture star, now appearing in "Ghosts" offered a discussion of Ebell at a luncheon before Ebell this afternoon.

The Business and Professional Woman's Club of Oakland has chosen to vary its routine with a dinner Thursday night, the feast to be staged at the Young Woman's Christian Association. Professor Thomas H. Reed, University of California; J. D. Drew, university student, and the University Glee Club will participate in the program.

Christmas is coming as the scarlet and gold boxes filled with a half score holiday remembrances cards, put forth by the Stanford Clinic Auxiliary and San Francisco Maternity Free Clinic, herald. Last year inaugurated the gift box, with its burden of season's greetings cards and brought into the treasury, which looks after the comfort of the patients of the maternity hospital.

This benefit this year is looked to be even greater as the need is greater. Everybody sends Christmas cards and uses a gift box. The auxiliary has but taken advantage of necessity upon which to build its plea for aid in the philanthropic work. The entire dairy outfit costs but a half dollar. Mrs. Frederick Faulkner, Stanford alumna, is among those distributing the boxes on this side of the bay.

BUG POWDER IN GRAY. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 26.—Six telephone girls mistook bug powder for flour in making gravy at the telephone office last night. They are all at home today seriously ill. The attending physician said they would all recover.

WRECK IN SCANDINAVIA.
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Economic conditions in the Scandinavian countries are unsettled and disorder is expected this winter from the Bolshevik element there, declared Bishop M. of the Methodist Episcopal church in the Scandinavian countries and Finland, who arrived here today.

LUCKY TO ESCAPE GALLOWS.
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—Frank Brandon "was extremely lucky to escape the gallows," Superior Judge Glenn told him when sentence of life imprisonment for murder of Elmer Strachan at Elverta was imposed. Brandon had accused Strachan of undue friendliness toward Mrs. Brandon.

Bank Robbers Routed By Waiting Guards

BY UNITED PRESS.
ELIZABETH, Colo., Oct. 25.—Four men who attempted to rob the Elbert County Bank here early today were driven off after a gun battle with guards and citizens.

Guard had been placed around the bank in anticipation of the robbery, following a tip which officials received recently that an attempt would be made to break into the bank this week.

The bandits drove up in a motor car and citizens opened fire with revolvers and shotguns. The highwaymen returned the fire and sped away. It is believed one of the bandits was wounded. The automobile was found abandoned near here.

UNITED STATES SENATOR James D. Phelan

On His Record of Faithful, Able and Efficient Service Should Be Re-Elected United States Senator.

November 2nd, 1920

Senator Phelan is truly progressive, a loyal Californian and non-partisan where the interests of all the people are concerned.

In Washington he is known as the leader of California's fight against Japanese invasion of California.

His re-election says you are behind that fight and Congress will know California is in earnest.

If you are behind your senator in his fight against the Jap, back him up and re-elect him United States senator.

Theodore Roosevelt, who doubled the civil service positions while President, has said in speaking of a non-removal rule similar to that in Oakland: "I regard the proposed law as seeking to establish a condition worse than the spoils system."

Nothing proposed by Tammany during my lifetime has begun to approach in mischief this proposal.

Abolish job insurance in Oakland by repealing Oakland's non-removal rule.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S TRAFFIC GUARDED

By order of Commissioner Morse, traffic patrolmen will be stationed at prominent street intersections every Saturday night hereafter, from 6 to 10 o'clock.

"I believe it will be a welcome relief from traffic congestion which is now a problem every Saturday night," says Morse.

The first job will be to provide illumination for the traffic men. There is now a big light at Fourteenth and Broadway, but nothing at Twelfth or Thirteenth to prevent a motorist from running into a traffic patrolman. Construction of brilliant overhead lights will begin immediately.

The Saturday night watch will be, according to present plans, on Broadway at Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth, and at Fourteenth and Washington.

PARADE TO AID RECRUITING FOR NEW WARSHIP

A parade through the Oakland streets and reception at the City Hall, Thursday night, will open the recruiting campaign for the battleship California in Alameda county.

The parade will form at 7:30 o'clock and will march through the business center of the city. Officers of the navy who will be welcome by Mayor John L. Davis and other city officials are: Admiral Halstead, Capt. H. P. Price, Capt. L. L. Bench, Capt. C. W. Cole, and Lieut. Commander Welch.

Following the reception the band of the California will give a concert on the City Hall plaza and a number of speakers will be heard. Later the Oakland Lodge of Elks will be hosts to the naval officers. The quota of Alameda county is 183 men if the battleship is to be manned by Californians.

Y. M. C. A. Plans Concert for Orphans

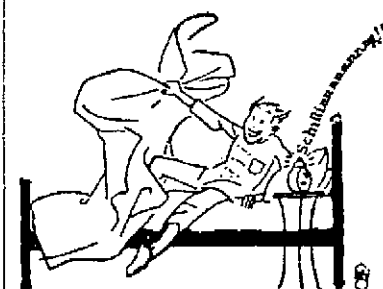

The Health Jubilee Singers will give a concert at 8:30 this evening at the Y. M. C. A. as a benefit for the orphans' Christmas dinner fund. It is given under the auspices of the Dormitory club. The Health Singers are known as the Swanee Mocking Birds and Health is called the "Black Caruso." Plantation melodies will compose the main part of the program and the general public is invited.

What economy! It costs just about the same per cup as ordinary coffee.

CHURCH MAY GO UP ON SITE OF OLD DEKE HOUSE

BERKELEY, Oct. 25.—In the place formerly occupied by the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity house a church will be built, according to a rumor current about the university today. The chapter house, which was the scene of the "strip poker" party which resulted in the "Deke" chapter being withdrawn by President David P. Barrows last semester, has been entirely torn down. Building operations will commence soon on the site of the old fraternity home, but whether an apartment house, as first announced, or a church will be built the fraternity members, who own the lot, will not divulge.

Allendale Principal Is Critically Ill

Mrs. Alice M. Heydorn, principal of Allendale school, is in a critical condition following an operation to which she submitted a few days ago after a brief illness. She was formerly principal of the Harrison school. To Mrs. Heydorn is given credit of having conveyed the agricultural work which has been adopted throughout the local school department. Under her direction students cultivated portions of the school grounds and vacant lots, supplying vegetables to many of the neighborhood families. A small herd of goats is kept to provide milk for the undernourished children of the school.

Swear at a Flivver and Maybe It Will Start? Star's Formula

WILL ROGERS and "Bessie," the antiquated flivver he uses in "HONEST HUTCH." He says you can start it with an ouija board.

Mysteries of Ancient Gas Engine Too Much for Artist Now Starring at the American

"Bessie" is in disgrace. Bessie, be it known, is the antiquated offspring of Henry Ford's foundry, used in "Honest Hutch." Will Rogers' new picture at the American. And she's in disgrace because they never know whether she's going to run or not.

"The other day she wouldn't start, and I took her apart from ball bearings to Klaxon Horn," declared Rogers. "When I put her together the result was the same—nary a peep from her. I am not a swearing man—but I just naturally said a few well-chosen words—and then suddenly she started beautifully."

"After this I'm going to carry a ouija board along to see when she'll start."

"Bessie" is co-star with Rogers in "Honest Hutch," the remarkable new picture at the American, which critics say is a worthy successor to his famous "Hullo." On the same bill is "The Empire Builders," featuring Cullen Landis and Clara Horton. It is adapted from Mary Roberts Rinehart's book of the same name.—Advertisement.

VETERANS SEEK AID OF ELECTION

Five hundred volunteers to campaign for the War Veterans Memorial clubhouse bond issue on election day are requested in an appeal issued by Roy G. Thompson, campaign manager of the ex-service men's committee.

These volunteers may either be women sympathizers with the former soldiers, Boy Scouts or ex-service men with leisure time enough to spend several hours at the polls and remind the voters of the measure that is expected to provide a clubhouse for all the ex-service organizations in Oakland.

In addition to these volunteers, Thompson is asking for 20 buglers to donate their services for two hours next Saturday noon, for an hour and a half Monday noon and from 6 to 8 o'clock on the morning of the election. These buglers will be placed on army trucks and tour the city, calling the attention of the voters to the bond issue. On Tuesday morning, that of the election, they will sound "Reveille" as they tour the residence section.

Those willing to volunteer are asked to send in their names and addresses and the time which they can devote to the work to R. G. Thompson, 1440 Broadway, or call Lakeside 1600, local 15.

VOTERS OF OAKLAND Put Federal Civil Service in the Oakland Charter

Because such a non-removal rule as exists in Oakland has been condemned by the National Municipal League, by the National Civil Service Reform League, and by civil service reformers everywhere in the country.

Because job insurance permitted under Oakland's non-removal rule is destructive to efficiency and economy in the city's business.

Because discipline is impossible and dishonesty is encouraged under Oakland's non-removal rule.

Federal civil service should be adopted in Oakland because it has proven good enough for a half million federal employees. It ought to be sufficient for Oakland.

THE COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW.

Proposal 13 on the State ballot of legislative projects to be voted on November 2 is an act passed by the last legislature amending the existing community property laws and is submitted to the people for referendum. The act as submitted works very significant changes in the community property laws and some of the changes are fraught with the gravest danger. For this reason the act should be rejected.

Proponents of the amendment confess that the act contains defects, but they say that the legislature should be trusted to correct these. But this is fallacious reasoning. If the defects threaten to disturb the whole system of business and credits, they should not be encountered when all that is necessary is to wait until a better and safer law can be drafted to remove the prejudices which some of the women citizens now claim exists against them.

The existing community property laws give the absolute control and disposition of the community property to the husband except (1) he cannot give the property away, (2) the wife must join with him in the execution of any deed or lease for a longer term than one year, and (3) that upon his death one-half of the community property vests in his wife, so that he has only power of testamentary disposition over the other half. But under the present law the wife never acquires any interest in the community property unless she happens to outlive her husband. This is the main point of the objection of the women, an objection well founded in reason and justice.

In the effort to remove this discrimination the proposed law makes the following changes: (1) If the wife dies before her husband, she may dispose of by will half the community property; (2) the husband's right—and this reservation is also made to apply to the wife—is no longer absolute as to testamentary disposition over one-half of the community property and he cannot leave any part of it to any one other than his wife or children without his wife's consent. The same restriction is imposed upon the wife.

It can easily be seen that should the proposed law go into effect much confusion to established businesses will result in cases where wives die before their husbands and will to their children one-half of the community property, all of which may be tied up in the husband's business. Such wills may result in forcing unwelcome partnerships by sons and sons-in-law, in some cases, and in undesirable sales of half the community property in other instances. The effect upon the credit capacity of such businesses will be very serious, if not fatal.

An objection based upon broader moral grounds, however, is that in cases where there are no children of the union neither spouse can leave without the consent of the other, any of the community property to a mother, father, brother or sister. If consent were given it might later be revoked secretly and aged and dependent parents left without a penny. If either husband or wife should die without a will, the surviving spouse takes the whole community property, cutting off all children and relatives of the deceased. The existing laws impose financial liabilities and responsibilities upon the husband. The proposed law, while giving half the benefits to the wife, does not repeal existing laws and derive an equal division of the responsibilities.

Laws which have so far-reaching and disturbing effect upon business and family relations should not be enacted hastily or at the passionate appeal of reformers. Equitable laws may be obtained without danger or injury and an equitable community property law should be devised before the present laws are superceded.

Vote "No" on Proposal 13.

AN IMAGINARY ARMY.

The small country of Montenegro has issued a statement which, in some respects, resembles the one in which Mark Twain once denied the story of his death. Of an army, widely circulated that the Montenegrin army was marching into Albania under the leadership of General Mitar Martinovitch, Montenegro says "there is no Montenegrin army and Mitar Martinovitch is not a general."

tenegrius have taken to the hills. When a call came for conscription for the Albanian expedition less than two hundred men were rounded up, the rest joining the sheep on the mountainsides. The government would have it that the expedition was launched by Serbians and that the story of Montenegro's participation was spread to turn a dissatisfaction which has been expressed in London and Rome.

The delay of the Powers of Europe in settling the Montenegrin question has been responsible for guerilla warfare and a reign of terror, and it may be some months before an accurate story of what is going on will reach the outside world.

At a time, however, when armies seem over-ready to march to battle it is a bit comforting to learn that the Montenegrin legions, so fearfully described, are but soldiers of the imagination.

THE KUNO REPORT.

Prof. Yoshi S. Kuno, a Japanese member of the faculty of the University of California, has made a contribution to the discussion of the Japanese question in California which for several reasons stands inestimably above any offered from any other quarter. His survey of the question is in the form of a report to President Barrows of the State University and is exhaustive and convincing. The first installment of the report was printed in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

What lends peculiar interest to the Kuno report is that he is a Japanese by birth, training and citizenship. He approached the study of his subject with that admirable and uncommon attribute of freedom from national and racial prejudice. This enabled him to translate into his survey the full value of his intimate knowledge of the policy and methods of the Japanese government and the conduct and habits of thinking of his countrymen in this State. This knowledge was peculiarly the advantage of Prof. Kuno and has given to his indictment of Japan's policy regarding her nationals in the United States a vitality not to be found in any other study of the question.

Prof. Kuno's report is not the result of a haphazard and hasty inspection of conditions. He has been studying the subject for a quarter century and has continually been intimately acquainted with the various steps and phases of Japan's program. Being possessed with accurate and comprehensive information and being also honest for honesty's sake, Prof. Kuno has produced a report that is infinitely displeasing to the Japanese government and to practically all the Japanese in this State. It required a certain degree of courage to do this, but Prof. Kuno fortunately was equal to the test.

In the publication of this report the readers of THE TRIBUNE will be given much valuable information on the Japanese question. It comes not from politicians, not from Americans prejudiced for one reason or another against Asiatics, but from a Japanese savant who has made the truth his goal. It is an unimpassioned, carefully formulated statement of facts.

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of the late Theodore Roosevelt, former President and a great American. Roosevelt was an exemplary citizen—he never shirked or neglected any of his duties as a citizen. If you would pay tribute to his memory, resolve to discharge the highest duty of citizenship and vote on November 2.

A RECORD OF EFFICIENCY.

While the advocates of government operation are finding fault with the management of the railways under private management, the railways are going ahead making records of increased efficiency that are vindicating the wisdom of the public in having them returned to private operation.

Statistics already made public regarding the number of carloads of freight moved in August have shown that in that month more freight was handled than in any previous August in history. Statistics more recently compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission disclose the fact, which even those in close touch with traffic conditions did not know, that even in July, when the effects of the switchmen's strike were still felt, the railways handled more business than in July of any year in history. The number of tons moved in July, these statistics of the Commission disclose, was 49,222,000,000, as compared with 52,247,000,000 in July, 1918, the record up to this time.

One of the important reasons for the increase in the traffic handled which the statistics of the Commission disclose, is that the average number of tons loaded per car in July showed a large increase, being 29.6 tons, as compared with 27.5 tons in July, 1919.

The Commission's statistics also disclose the fact that in spite of the "outbreak" railroad strikes the total amount of freight handled in the first seven months of 1920 was greater than in the same period of any previous year. The number of tons carried in July, as compared with 217,000,000,000 in July, 1918 and 212,000,000,000 in July, 1919.

With the facts now before us, it is safe to predict that the amount of freight handled in the entire year 1920 will be greater than in any earlier year in history. The number of cars loaded week by week still continues to show increases over the corresponding weeks of previous years. In the week ending October 2, the latest for which a report has been made, the number of cars loaded by the Class I roads was 919,918, as compared with 857,524 in 1919 and 871,525 in 1918.

In the week ending October 2, the statistics of the United States Geological Survey show the number of tons of bituminous coal transported was 22,573,550, which sets a new record for this year and closely approaches the highest record ever made in any past year.

Since the statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission show that even back in July the railways moved more freight than ever before in that month, it may be predicted with the utmost confidence that when complete data are available they will show that all previous records have been broken in every subsequent month.

One of the most important results the railways have obtained is the practical elimination of all congestions in the terminal yards. When they were returned to private operation on March 1, the number of loaded cars accumulated in the terminals awaiting movement was almost 100,000. In the week ending October 3 this had been reduced to 41,135, of which nearly 18,000 were being held at the ports for ships in the transoceanic and coastwise service. The accumulations of cars are now so small that it may be said without exaggeration that congestions have ceased to exist.

NOTES and COMMENT

The navy department still has large quantities of supplies in the way of blankets, winter underwear, articles, and other articles of bedding and clothing which it is advertising for sale, "considerably below the market." That the navy stocked up as though it expected the war to be a permanent one, is enough for the shortage and high price that such commodities attained during the war, and may materially assist in the slump in trade that merchants complain of now.

The German kaiser has ceased to be a show in his Dutch retreat, according to a late account. He now moves about the village environment to which he is restricted without gathering a crowd. If he lives long enough he may see the time when even a funkier will cease to do him reverence. There have been few such examples of fallen grandeur—the fall resulting from the acts of the chief "beneficiary."

Senator Reed's speech at Kansas City is understood to have further unsettled the contingent that is having trouble to make up its mind. It will be remembered that Senator Reed could not find comfort in any candidate for President who has been nominated. He is in a class with the Bryan in this respect.

How prohibition ruined vineyardists is further illustrated in the fact that "strippings" of wine grapes, the culms that are left from the first picking, fetch a hundred dollars a ton. In the "good old days," if the first picking brought a fifth as much, vineyardists counted themselves fortunate.

Allan A. Ryan of New York gives $25,000 to the Democratic campaign fund, and accompanies the gift with the opinion that the methods used against the Democratic ticket were "intimate from the beginning." The opinion of a man who gives $25,000 is bound to command attention, but there is some curiosity as to just where Republican infamy comes in in opposing the Democratic effort to elect Cox.

Candidate Cox gives no sign of his newspaper training in expressing indignation at the public speech at the Saturday Evening Post's cartoon. A newspaper man, and especially an editor, ought to be so used to cartooning and lampooning that these attentions would slide off his epidermis, instead of getting under it.

The merry fighting goes on around and about the country is commensured in it. But the Armenians have begun a new attack on Turkey, and we are to remember that Armenia is a country that it was planned to have the United States establish a mandatory over.

The plan to erect the Philippines into a territory is resisted by the Filipinos. They demand complete independence. Probably they would not object to such a string as would fetch the United States to their assistance in the event that their cohesiveness embroiled them with another power, but for general grafting purposes they would prefer to go it alone.

How many families keep a loaded gun in the house as a protection against burglars, and how few succeed in effective use of it when the emergency arises, yet what a considerable number make tragic use of it otherwise? The account of a man shooting his wife at San Jose in mistake for a burglar is in point. If there hadn't been a gun in the house it would not have happened.

California financiers figure large in national affairs. John S. Brown, recently elected president of the American Bankers' Association, is now in New York, and is credited for a plan to further develop foreign trade. American bankers are no longer introspective—confining their attention to home affairs—but are setting a world vision for the investment of American money and the employment of American industrial energy.

It is a danger story that seems to be spreading. The celebrated and fatal effort of Mayor MacSwiney of Cork comes the instance of nurse Longland of Visalia. She was convicted of arson, and essays to beat the sentence by refusing to eat. Permitting those in the coils of the law to have their way about eating is the simplest way out for perplexed jailers.

Reports of a new Mexican revolution are denied with rather too much vigor. Another report that the conditions there are favorable, and there will not be great surprise if the authoritative news eventually is that a new liberator has arisen.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

The State Forestry Bureau is doing a good work in urging the planting of trees along the highways in California. In the course of a few years, such policy, consistently carried out, would produce big dividends in beauty and usefulness. The bureau has published a book of useful facts on street and highway tree planting that ought to be in the hands of every lover of trees.—San Francisco Journal of Commerce.

Andrew Christensen, prominent rancher of this county, who has been spending a vacation in San Francisco, was arrested there Friday evening after he had made desperate efforts to climb through the wicket at the ticket office of the California theater. Christensen appeared before Police Judge McAtee the following morning and explained that he had imbibed too freely of cocktails made from dry hay, and became possessed of the impression that half a dozen mountain lions from his native county were pursuing him.—Oakland Press.

HIS SPIRITS GO MARCHING ON

THE FORUM

The Editor of THE TRIBUNE declines responsibility for opinions and statements expressed in this column. Brief contributions to current topics of general interest are welcome. They will not, as a rule, be printed unless accompanied by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication.

WHO SHOULD THE IRISH VOTE FOR?

To the Editor of The Tribune:

As an Irishman who is interested in the Irish issue in American politics, may I be permitted to respectfully comment in this connection on the recent pronouncements of the three Presidential candidates.

Governor Cox offers Article X of the League of Nations covenant as the means by which to obtain the so-called "Irish freedom," and at the same time regards it as the safeguard against "external aggression"—in this case Ireland.

Let me assure Governor Cox what British Protestants fear most is not "aggression" from without but ecclesiastical aggression from within.

No guarantees of the present League of Nations can give us protection from such a menace to our liberties and rights. To speak of Article X as the safeguard against "external aggression" is to catch Irish votes in America and a subtle to assuage fear for British interests in Ireland.

Would it not be far better, more dignified and just to conduct the present campaign on a platform of strictly American issues and leave the British people to attend to their own domestic concerns?

Should we not internationalize the League of Nations may embody Irish Protestants do not realize these to a solution of the British problem in Ireland. Their hope and majority are not in Article X—they prefer to "trust in God and keep their powder dry."

Senator Harding, on the other hand, states clearly that he could not undertake to commit the American nation to intervention in the Irish question, which he regards as a domestic concern of the British people. Harding stands for "hands off the Irish question." He stands for unqualified opposition to the present form of the League of Nations covenant.

Article X, because of alleged dangers to American interests. The Irish in America are also opposed to the League of Nations, for a different reason, however—it might have some benefit for Britain. Cox says Article X gives Sinn Fein Ireland her chance for "freedom," and British her protection against Irish "external aggression." What then should the Irish vote for?

There is, however, a third Presidential candidate, who represents the "Irish-American party." I believe, he regards the British people as deserving of all the opposition that can be hurled on them and their administration in Ireland. He believes the American Nation should officially recognize the Irish Republic and grant the "Irish" the Irish vote about the "Irish question." This man is very plain-spoken. He stands for all the Irish in America stand for and endorsing the open saloon. Since he upholds the full-fledged Irish platform, and since the Irish say they have enough votes to defeat or elect an American Presidential candidate, they should vote solid and en masse for "Christensen." Then the American people would know at last the real strength of the much-dreaded "Irish" vote.

Let us not, I say, some, a goodly expression of gratitude that the American-naturalized and the American-born Irishman should regard the use of the American ballot, wholly in the light of Pro-Irish, anti-British interests. The duty and responsibility of American citizenship are lost sight of. They ignore the larger interests of this nation that feeds them and honors them with the sacred trust of the franchise. If only the Irish scheme succeeds—well, American interests can "go to the dogs."

Yours truly, D. J. GORDON.

HEALTH and HADINESS

Some Facts About Glands and Goitres You Should Know.

By Dr. LEONAR D. HIRSBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

A goitre is an enlarged thyroid. The thyroid is the "sweetbread" or gland which lies flush against the windpipe. Normally it is modest, reshaped or rounded when "goitred."

The thyroid is anatomically and physiologically "one of the most prominent citizens" in our midst. It may be said to be a big factor in such emotions and states of feeling as fear, anger, fright, worry, anxiety, aghast, dullness, jealousy, affection, muscular tremors, sweating, heart palpitation, and many other feelings, mental, physical and emotional.

Indeed, the thyroid gland has a whole lot more to do with the mind than has the ancient idol, the brain, long since dethroned.

When the thyroid is too busy and too much overworked physiologically by inheritance, from excessive minerals, by bacteria or from irritation of any sort, more than the average normal amount of thyroid substances are made by it to find their way into the blood and lymph stream.

The thyroid then may be swollen, or larger than it should be—a goitre—or it may remain invisible, yet exhibit itself by bulging eyes, sweaty hands, trembling arms and knees, palpitation of the heart, or an uneasy feeling much of the time, as if something is about to happen—that is, apprehension.

"Hyper-thyroidism" is the name for this condition. "Hypo-thyroidism," or myxo-oedema, is the contrary of this. Mental dullness, dry and thick skin, slowness of intellect and feeling, and a pulse of 50 to 65, are often signs of hypo-below-thyroidism.

The remedy for hyper-thyroidism is not always the same as for goitre. Many of the so-called "nervous prostration" and "neurasthenia" or "psychasthenia" victims are really subjects of hyper-thyroidism.

"Exophthalmos" means an outward projection of the eyeballs. Exophthalmic goitre is therefore a self-explanatory name.

With regard to surgical operations for goitres, Dr. George E. Barby of Albany, N. Y., says that the removal of one lobe of the thyroid gland in exophthalmic goitre may give temporary relief, but will not effect a cure. If only a portion of one lobe is left and its blood supply is undisturbed, its hypertrophy or overgrowth and a recurrence of symptoms may be expected.

With careful management and selection of time, a complete operation may safely be done. Where sufficient condition that hypertrophy or overgrowth in a sufficient number of cases justifies the belief that the removal of the amount of gland tissue referred to, no symptoms of thyroid or parathyroid deficiency need be expected.

Too Common.
A player of very humble station in life joined a club and showed great natural talents. He soon made a name for himself in the league team and the day came when he had to make a long railway journey to take part in a match.

Lunch was served on the train, and his eyes opened wider and wider as each course was placed before him. After the sweet had been served the steward asked:

"Will you like cheese, sir?"
"Cheese!" he exclaimed. "Haven't you anything else? I can get cheese at home."—Answers, London.

SHIPPING BOARD MAY DISPOSE OF CLYDE HOLDINGS

Housing Project Likely to Be Sold By Federal Body. Officials Believe

Announcement by the United States Shipping Board of its intention to dispose of all housing projects in which it owns capital stock, is taken by shipping officials here and in San Francisco to mean that the housing facilities and ownership of the board at Clyde are to be sold.

The shipping board is known to hold a mortgage on Clyde properties and to be the principal owner of capital stock in the Clyde company, and the only question remains is one as to whether the fact that outside parties own a certain amount of the properties at the new shipbuilding town will influence any contemplated action.

NO DEFINITE WORD. At the offices of the board in San Francisco it was said today that there was no definite word regarding Clyde received and that no announcement could be made. The housing project at Mare Island, it is understood, was built by the Industrial Housing Commission, which is separate from the shipping board and will not therefore come under the ruling.

When the housing program of the shipping board was inaugurated, money was advanced to local realty companies or housing companies by the shipping board concerned. The builder constructed the houses and the shipping board took mortgages from the local realty companies.

OWNED STOCK. The board also became the owner of various projects by the acquisition of capital stock, and is said to be a heavy stockholder in the Clyde company.

The board now plans to dispose of such projects by selling them to manufacturing and business concerns of a substantial character or by disposing of the houses by individual units. Local appraisers will pass upon the values and terms of sale.

In the list of those places affected appear the names of Wilmington, Camden, Chester, Loraine, Wyanotte, Jacksonville, Groton and Dundalk.

Father of Nevada Irrigation Dies Here, Aged 73

Robert L. Fulton of Reno, Nev., father of the irrigation movement in Nevada, one of the founders of the Reno Gazette, for many years land agent of the Southern Pacific Company in Nevada and leader in the Republican party in the state, is dead here, aged 73. He was a pioneer railroad telegrapher, starting with the Erie road in the early sixties and was with the Union Pacific while it was being built across the plains.

CONFERENCE HELD ON SALE OF BONDS

In order to devise ways and means for selling over a million dollars' worth of Oakland and Berkeley school bonds which cannot be disposed of because of the condition of the local market, a delegation of educators from the two cities headed by Professor James H. Berkeley and Fred Kahn and Margston Campbell of this city, met with the district attorney today.

District Attorney Decoto said that no information concerning the procedure that will be taken to effect the sale of the bonds which must be disposed of in order to continue school instruction will be given out at this time.

Both the Oakland and Berkeley educators told the district attorney that the bonds because of the low rate of interest cannot be sold and that this condition threatens to stop all school building in the two cities. "It is necessary to raise over a million dollars in the two cities for immediate purposes," District Attorney Decoto said, "and the delegation which called on me today is asking the assistance of this office. I cannot say what will be done. We may find a remedy, which will be announced later."

Stage Was Speeding, Say Four Witnesses

Four witnesses told Superior Judge James G. Quinn today in the trial of Oliver C. Horsfall, charged with manslaughter in running down and killing of Randolph A. Crook in Berkeley, that Horsfall's stage was speeding.

Sherman Spates said the stage passed him at 35 miles an hour. Inspector F. G. Swain, of the Berkeley police department, said the stage was traveling so rapidly it skidded 90 feet before it could be stopped. G. Studebaker testified similarly and Fred H. Young, conductor of the street car said the stage was going 35 miles an hour.

YOUNG WOMAN OF DIFFERENT NAMES SWALLOWS POISON

Mystery surrounds the identity of the pretty young woman who today was reported to be dying from the effects of a quantity of bichloride of mercury she swallowed, following the discovery by police authorities that she and the man she had apartments with at a downtown hotel were known in Oakland under two names.

When she was rushed to the hospital yesterday after her attempt at suicide, the woman gave attending physicians the names of Mrs. Jacqueline Salisbury. The man who accompanied her is said to have declared that his name and that he was her husband.

Death by poison was attempted here yesterday at the institution, following a domestic battle at the hotel in which they were living. He refused to give a detailed account of the alleged trouble.

Early today the clerk at the hospital informed the police that the couple had been stopping there for several days and had been registered under the name of "E. J. Travis and wife" of Sacramento. They had not previously mentioned the name of Salisbury. He said that with the attempted suicide, however, the man approached the desk and asked to be allowed to change his registration. On the hotel book today it reads "Jay Salisbury, Syracuse, Washington."

This fact, combined with his alleged attempts to hold the matter a secret, caused an investigation by the police. They were unable to locate him this morning.

Santa Fe Prepares To Restore Service

As soon as sufficient equipment can be obtained, the Santa Fe Railroad Company is to restore its through service between San Diego and San Francisco with the return of the first-class trains known as the "Saint" and the "Angel," James B. Duffy, assistant general traffic agent of the system, announced today. A time table readjusting the company's service in the San Joaquin Valley is being prepared.

On November 14 the company is to add a new transcontinental train to its schedule to be known as the "San Francisco Limited," which, it is expected, will make the run between Oakland and Chicago in three days.

Reports that the company is to withdraw its passenger service from the Oakland mole and resume it at Ferry point, Richmond, were denied by Duffy.

Kuno Declares Danger Is From Japanese Already Here; Predicts Their Population In California Will Be Doubled by 1930

One of the most startling conclusions which Professor Yoshi S. Kuno has reached in his investigation of the Japanese situation is included in today's installment of his report, which is being published exclusively in the Tribune. In substance this is what Professor Kuno says: The danger to California from the Japanese is not in possible violation of the immigration act by their crossing the Mexican border. It is not in the possible influx of further "picture brides" from the island empire. It is not in any sort of Japanese immigration to this country. It is from the Japanese who are here today.

Professor Kuno has gone at the matter biologically this time, and he makes this definite statement: Even if not one more Japanese enters America from now to 1930, the Japanese population in California will have doubled by that time.

His article indicates that this is no wild surmise on the part of Professor Kuno. He tells what sort of people are the Japanese as to reproduction and gives scientific data to back his conclusion. He asks, then, these questions: Why worry about possible immigration through Mexico or the arrival of more "picture brides" or the maintenance of stringent immigrant regulations when the real problem lies in the Japanese already within the confines of California?

Professor Kuno's analysis of the "picture bride" question is of very timely interest. It and the other features mentioned are included in the following, the second installment of the stupendous report Kuno has presented to President David P. Barrows of the University of California.

A Survey of the Japanese Question

By PROF. YOSHI S. KUNO (INSTALLMENT 2)

Copyright, 1920, by The Tribune Publishing Co.

Japan makes passports effective for a period of six months from date of issue. When in February picture marriage received its death-blow, there were in Japan several hundred, or perhaps as many as a thousand young women who, being already provided with passports, could legally come to America by leaving Japan before the end of August. Does not this account for the coming of picture brides as late as September? Is there any ground for the accusation that the Japanese government has broken its pledge? Should the Japanese government issue passports to such, it would be a violation of the "Gentlemen's Agreement" and the Immigration Office in San Francisco and elsewhere would have a perfect right to prevent the landing of such persons. Even should they manage to land, they might later be arrested and deported. Probably Japan is one of the few countries in the world where detailed family records are officially kept. It is therefore impossible for one to legally receive a passport unless the government participates in the deceit. So far we have heard of no cases in the immigration office in violation of the agreement.

In short, the immigration question is settled. Japan is unwilling to have her subjects emigrate to this continent, and the United States does not welcome them. Such being the case, although there may still be a few more points to be settled between Japan and the United States before absolute and rigid exclusion of Japanese is effected, yet this is not a question to be hotly disputed before the public, as both nations stand ready to enter into agreement regarding the matter.

Notwithstanding this fact, in California at the present time, the menace of Japanese immigration is being loudly proclaimed on the one hand, while on the other, strenuous efforts are being made to deport Japanese already residing here and their native-born children of all opportunity to be Americanized. Some organizations have suggested segregation of the Japanese population, while others have even gone to the extent of advocating that native-born be denied citizenship either by prohibitory legislation or constitutional amendment. Would it be sane policy to thus keep an undesirable element in its original condition, and permit it to constantly increase year after year?

WORLD STILL FIND POPULATION DOUBLED

Should all the plans and prophecies regarding the Japanese now advocated by Californians materialize, and everything asked

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.
Former President Taft, who has been a staunch supporter of civil service, has said in speaking of a non-removal rule similar to that in Oakland: "I am very much opposed to any civil service law which takes from the managing and operating officers the power of dismissing subordinates and gives it to an independent body."
Abolish Oakland's non-removal rule. It has no place in a merit system. Adopt Federal Civil Service. It is good enough for a half million federal employees, it ought to be sufficient for Oakland.

"Who is this bird, Bobby North, that breaks right in as a main-the house as the fans gathered in the back room last night and told the bartender to be a little more sparing with the gingerale so as to leave room for something else.

"Search me," chirped Broadway Bill. "I asked that same question of Tommy Simpson last night and he said 'go see John Flannery.' Simpson says he is a pretty good boy, having boxed Benny Dezard in the gymnasium for the past couple of years, besides licking some of the second-rate lightweight in the east. Tommy couldn't remember the names of the fighters the North child had licked, but he is quite sure he has won a lot of fights. However, if it is on the strength of having boxed with Leonard that North gets on top of the card, then Jimmy Dundee has a right smart come-back.

Gedeon Admits Series Was "Fixed"

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Joe Gedeon, second baseman of the St. Louis American League club, went before the grand jury when it resumed its investigation of the baseball scandal here today and it is said he admitted that the 1919 world's series was "fixed" and that Gedeon was the first witness before the jury today. Harvey Redmond, owner of the St. Louis club, was also a witness at the hearing in East St. Louis, and Arnold Rothstein, owner of the Harve de Grace racetrack, was waiting to testify later.

Redmond is a statement in newspaper columns, told of a conference in the Hotel Sherman in Chicago during the 1919 series. The conference was attended by Redmond, the St. Louis club, and the Chicago club, and it is said that the St. Louis club was the first to admit that the series was "fixed" and that Gedeon was the first witness before the jury today.

Peet Bros. Lose Hard-Fought Game To Hayward Natives

The Peet Bros. ball club traveled out to Hayward and put up a grand little battle with the Hayward natives in a game which was a hard-fought one and an 8-7 score. The natives staged a big five-run rally in the third inning after the Peet Bros. had taken a two-run lead. Two more runs were added to the five in the fourth. The Peet Bros. came back with two runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings, but the natives scored in their half of the seventh. The Peet Bros. tried hard to even up in the ninth, but fell one short of tying the score.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

By EDDIE MURPHY
Now that the first game of the Oakland Tribune Midwinter league has gone down in the records, the players of the league will rest easy for a while. It took nearly two months of planning by the officers and managers to get the league off to a successful start, and every one of the twenty-four teams was on the job in the first game. The league schedule for 15 weeks was made up some weeks ago, but owing to the late decision in making the class B league a ten-club affair it will be necessary for a new schedule to be drawn up. The league will play fourteen games in all, and the season will be completed this week.

Blue and Gold Squad in Great Shape for Conference Game With the Aggies
By DOUG MONTELL
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 25.—Action was the password last night at the home of the Golden Bear with the entire Blue and Gold squad decked out in their stripes for the first time this season. The Bears looked to be in top shape after their clash with Utah Saturday and the list of cripples has been reduced greatly. Coach Andy Smith himself was on the disabled list last night and was confined to his room. Assistant Coach Nibs Price taking charge of the Bruins and putting them through stiff physical practice. The Bears have but two more practices on their home lot before hopping aboard a train headed north.

Templeton Can Play Football Another Term

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 25.—"Dink" Templeton will be eligible to play in the remaining football games of the season due to a war-time ruling of the Pacific Coast Conference which declared that time in the services will be deducted in determining a student's athletic standing. Templeton, who was a member of the Pacific Coast Conference, and chairman of the Stanford faculty athletic committee, Templeton was in the service a year and four months. The general impression here was that he would be ineligible to play football this season, but this was denied last week.

McCredie Denies He Will Manage Seattle

SEATTLE, Oct. 25.—Walt McCredie, Portland baseball manager, will not pilot the Seattle team next year, according to reports from the baseball magnates here today. McCredie is angling for the Portland franchise. This part of the California story sounds plausible to Seattle sports men, but so far has failed to affect his signature to the dotted line for managing the team next season. But it is definitely stated that if Wares does not sign McCredie will not be his successor.

AMERICAN NEWS EAST SHIPING DAYS EVENTS IN WORLD OF FINANCE

STRAW GAS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE

Tenants at periods of gasoline and oil shortage and the steadily mounting demand for oil has given impetus to all manner of experiments by those seeking substitutes, many of them wild ideas, but the wildest has not equaled the stories that have been circulated regarding the progress made.

Of these stories, probably the most recent and misapprehending relates to the possibility of supplementing gasoline with an internal combustion engine fuel made from straw. The fact that the Bureau of Chemistry was known to be conducting experiments have added color to these stories which have grown from lip to lip.

In reality, an explanation of the experiments points to the fact that it is not and probably never will be a real rival of gasoline, and until a proper compressor and reservoir arrangements can be invented, fuel cannot be used on automotive vehicles.

Straw fuel, which has been successfully and cheaply produced, is not a liquid at all, but a gas, something like the nature of illuminating gas, and which used in stationary engines, much cheaper than gasoline. It has not yet come into direct commercial use.

MAKES GAS FROM STRAW.
The experiments originally were the idea of Professor MacLaurin of the University of Saskatchewan, who sought an easy fuel substitute in the straw which is so abundant in the New York area. The chemical experiments in 1918, through the co-operation of Dr. Carl Albers, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, was a Harvard classmate and old chum of Dr. MacLaurin.

The apparatus was taken from New York to the bureau headquarters and later set up in a small corrugated iron laboratory on Arlington farm, where George Rothe, a bureau chemist, is now working on experiments.

Rothe was able to make 250 feet of gas from fifty pounds of straw, and to run a light one and one-half horsepower gasoline engine with it, lighting, heating and cooking in his laboratory by this means.

USEFUL ON FARM.
The equipment consists of an oven four by six by ten feet, a vertical pipe and a reservoir of steel sheet iron, and a long and one-half inch in which the gas at thirty-five pounds pressure was retained.

This engine, which is run on gasoline and switched to gas, where it ran perfectly with all carbon trouble eliminated.

The use of such a plant is seen on the farm for running machinery and generating electricity. The latter is almost a novelty, but it is believed that the straw gas makers that the system could be used in a number of places.

It is known to manufacture and install the straw gas plants. Otherwise the invention has not been put into practical use.

the new store building. The old building has been entirely filled up so that in the future a hardware store may be opened at the time. No definite plans have been made public as yet, however. The basement is constructed entirely of hardwood floors so that it will be later of the best fitted in the city.

SIX TRIPS MADE YEARLY TO BUY FOR LOCAL STORE

Six buying trips a year are made by Paul R. Manheim, member of the firm of Manheim and Mazon, and he takes the membership in one of New York's biggest buying organizations and the services of four other staff buyers and department managers serve to keep the big new specialty shop store at Fifteenth and Broadway supplied with the brightest and latest pieces of apparel as fast as they make their appearance on the New York market.

Manheim and two of the staff buyers returned three weeks ago from an extensive buying trip in which they purchased large lots of the best offerings of New York dealers for the opening stock in the new store which will be presented to the public tonight.

WILL RETURN EAST. Having here only long enough to see the acceptance of the new store by the public, Manheim will return to New York, and other staff buyers and trade centers to purchase more specialties for the winter season. He will be gone about a month.

Other trips will be made all through the winter by the buyers of the store so that there will not be a week go by that a Manheim and Mazon buyer is not on his or her way across the continent, either going to or coming from New York.

In addition to the larger shipments sent by the buyers a steady stream of express shipments pours into the store at all times as a result of the activities of the store's New York buying office. It is the express duty of this office to supply the store with all of the dainty little new things which are always bobbing up here and there in the exclusive little shops of that great city.

LATEST NOVELTIES. With the service supplied by the buying organization, the store is assured that it will be able to display all of the latest novelty wrinkles in the fashions with in a week after their very first showing in New York. In addition to this the buying organization maintains close relations with

SOCIETY WOMEN ARE VICTIMS OF HOTEL BURGLAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The police are making strenuous efforts to apprehend a daylight burglar who has robbed the St. Francis hotel on three occasions. His victims are Mrs. Leopold Nichols, wife of a millionaire importer, Mrs. D. N. Walter, prominent in San Francisco society circles and wife of a wealthy furniture dealer here, and Mrs. H. T. Fiedler, tourist from South Orange, N. J.

The loot from the Nichols suit included jewelry and wearing apparel. Mrs. Nichols suffered from a nervous breakdown upon learning that her room had been broken into. She is now recovering in a hospital. The burglar worked with gloved hands and left no clues according to Detective Sergeant J. F. Dinan.

Albany Will Vote On Utility District

ALBANY, Oct. 26.—The Albany Board of Trustees unanimously passed last night the final ordinance calling the public utility district election for Saturday, November 13. City Attorney Frank J. Connelley attended the meeting and reports that practically all the opposition to the movement has been controverted to the plan for a water district.

The principal leading apparel manufacturers of the east and for this season have frequently happened that important innovations of dress have been shown here as much as two weeks before they have made their appearance in the shops of New York, Philadelphia and Boston. The opening of the new store has meant an expansion of the buying facilities of the store which already revealed those of some of the largest department stores of the city. An important addition is that of Ben Morris who will manage and buy for the newly established jewelry and leather goods section.

Morris accompanied Manheim on his recent trip to New York, making the purchases for the new section which will be thrown open to the public at the store's big opening to-night.

CITY DIRECTORY URGED BY MAYOR

Strong recommendation that the city appropriate $1000 toward the expenses of a new city directory was made the Council by Mayor Davis this morning.

The communication follows an appeal from Postmaster J. J. Rosborough, who asserted that there has been no Oakland directory for two years, and the work of the post-office has become too heavy in trying to keep track of the many citizens of the city.

The Mayor said a directory company is ready to proceed at the city appropriate $1000. The matter was referred to the commissioner of revenue and finance.

An appropriation of $1000 was also asked by the park board toward the coming celebration of the Pilgrim Tercentenary.

Indictment Against Williams Cancelled

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The grand jury has voted to cancel the true bill against Frank D. Williams, Oakland shipyard worker charged with three counts of perjury. Williams was charged by a former wife with having perjured himself when he secured a divorce.

The jury also has voted true bills charging Mrs. E. Lynch and her son George Lynch on seven counts with obtaining money under false pretenses. They were joint proprietors of a string of millinery stores, and arrested several weeks ago after an investigation showed that their liabilities were over $150,000 and their assets apparently less than $30,000.

Williams Indictment Recalled, Says Lawyer

The San Francisco Grand Jury has dismissed its indictment against Frank D. Williams of Oakland, who was charged with giving perjured testimony in his divorce suit against Annabella Williams, Attorney A. J. Woolsey said today.

Mrs. Williams charged that her husband placed her in an insane asylum and then tried to get a divorce so he could marry Catherine Sepulca. She said that he perjured himself when he stated during the divorce proceedings in San Francisco that he did not know where she was.

DR. WING IMPROVING. Dr. Wing, city veterinarian, who recently underwent an operation for hernia, is said to be much improved and is expected back at his post in a week.

At Home to our Friends - Tonight

The New Home of MANHEIM & MAZOR, located on Broadway at 15th, is now complete, and we want you to come and enjoy it with us.

We are setting aside one evening for sightseeing—one evening for your enjoyment of beautiful new things—one evening for you to inspect the loveliest modes of the season, displayed in a beautiful new store.

We wish it to be clearly understood that our invitation is to all of the people of the East Bay Cities—that no cards of admission are required—that all are welcome—and that the pleasure of sightseeing begins at the opening hour.

Come to this unique event. See beautiful living models in fashion groups showing the smartest and trimmest of street frocks—tableaux of exquisitely gowned women displaying the loveliest and most frivolous things Dame Fashion has conceived.

That these many exclusive models, as well as thousands of simpler costumes, might be ready for display at this opening, our buyers were in Eastern fashion centers securing the promises of designers and makers of women's, misses' and children's costumes and other ready to wear garments, months and months ago, even before the foundation for our new building was laid.

So you see we have been planning for you a long time—and we want you to come to this opening and enjoy these pretty things with us.

We aren't thinking about business tonight, for we are so happy to be in our new home, but on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock you will have the opportunity of buying. However, tonight we just want you to come to see our new home with its 26 unique shops—displaying lovely creations in novel fashion tableaux.

At eight o'clock tonight we shall be ready for you and we shall keep open house until half past ten o'clock.

WIFE'S DIVORCE ACTION CHARGES DAGGER THREAT

"I could be rich if you were dead. The graveyard is the place for you."

This information which Mrs. Hanna Carlson says was repeated to her by her husband who, she alleges, sat with a dagger pointing at her heart and talked in this manner for two hours, led her to file suit today against John Henry Carlson for divorce.

Mrs. Carlson further complains that although they have been married 32 years, her husband has continued his cruel actions, that he has made fun of her for sending her children to Sunday school, that he told them to take the money given them for church and spend it for candy and that he had the habit of creeping up behind her with a knife.

The Carlsons were married at Itermark, Finland, April 12, 1888, and separated October 12, 1920. They have only one minor child, Mildred, aged 17, and five other children who are of age.

ALL CARS HANDY TO NEW STORE OF MANHEIM, MAZOR

Any street car line in Oakland which comes downtown passes either directly in front of or within two blocks of the new Manheim and Mazor store.

That is a remarkable feature of the store's situation which, on the southeast corner of Fifteenth and Broadway, is being truly characterized as "the heart of the uptown shopping district."

Every resident of Piedmont, Berkeley and North Oakland has the advantage of being able to take a car line which will come within one block of the new apparel shop. Most of the residents of this district are on car lines that pass the doors of the new store.

A survey of the relation of the car lines to the proposed site of the store was one of the important factors in Manheim and Mazor's selection of the location according to Milton Mazor.

"The importance of this element in a trading center cannot be underestimated," says Mazor. "We believe that our new location is more convenient for shoppers using the street cars than any other store in the city."

The list of street car lines which pass the doors of the new shop is: College avenue, Leona-Mills College, Oakland avenue, Piedmont avenue, Shattuck avenue, Telegraph avenue, Lakeshore avenue, Grand avenue and Park Boulevard.

West Oakland territory, West Berkeley, Richmond and San Pablo and portions of Alameda are covered in the list of car lines which pass within one block of the new store. The one-block list is: Diamond (Hopkins street), Eighth avenue, Alameda, Grove, San Pablo, Richmond, East and West Sixteenth street, Fifth avenue, West Fourteenth street and Hollis street.

With the addition of the list of street cars which go within two blocks of the store are: East Alameda, Elmhurst-San Leandro, Hayward, Thirtieth street (Alameda), East Eighteenth and West Twelfth street and Melrose.

Professor Reed Will Talk On Amendments

Professor Thomas Reed of the University of California will speak on the amendments to the constitution in the Alameda Congregational church, Thursday evening. The meeting is open to the public and a special invitation has been issued to the women voters of the community to be present.

Professor Reed is one of the best known authorities on the American constitution and constitutional law in the bay region. The Rev. C. C. Wilson, pastor of the Congregational church, will preside.

Our best wishes for success in your new building.

Presentation of Ibsen Play Finds Walthal Only Star

By IRVING PICHEL

If the Ghost of Henrik Ibsen had been able to return and see last night's performance of his great tragedy, he would surely have wondered whether the school of realistic drama of which he was the founder and the two generations of players and directors, skilled in natural methods, that he and his plays evoked, had not lived in vain.

The dramatic movement of the late nineteenth century taught us to find our greatest pleasure in the theater when it is least like the theater. The production of "Ghosts" at Ye Liberty is of the theater, theatrical. Scarcely a moment of it conveys the illusion of life, of reality, of actual human suffering and terror. It may seem affectation to say that so to act Ibsen's plays does irreverence to him; it is no more than just to state that so to act them frustrates the lively hope with which an audience enters a playhouse, expecting to participate for a while in the lives of ghost-ridden Mrs. Alving and her doomed son.

Instead, though, it sees ghosts in deed, they are the ghosts of stock company methods in acting, in stage direction, in mispronunciation of the English language (to say nothing of an occasional French word), in the setting of the stage.

Through this cloudy and befogging performance, the virtues of Ibsen's play still shine, with its pitiful tragedy of the youth who inherits corruption from his dissolute father, and lives in instant horror of the parents that is bound to overtake him, and, in back of this, the almost equally tragic spectre of the father, seeking outlet in dissipation for his virile joy in life that had no other scope in the gloomy Norwegian atmosphere.

And, in contrast to the performances of the supporting cast, Walthal's acting shines, too. He conveyed simply, naturally, at all times sincerely, at times movingly, the pity and terror of the boy's fate. He stressed a little too much, it may be, the romantic aspect of Oswald's character, and not quite enough the pathological. So that, at the end of the play, his breakdown lacked of dramatic force or reality.

I cannot help recalling a performance I once saw in a tawdry east side theater. The play was the same. The company was one of Russians, headed by that remarkable actor

Paul Orenieff, and the Regina was played by Nazimova. Though I could understand no single word of the dialogue, the horror and tragic bite of Oswald's quick decay I shall never forget. The ghosts of that performance haunted me last night.

What's His Balance?

Burroughs Direct-to-Ledger Posting Makes the Answer Immediately Available for Dodge-Sweeney & Co., Wholesale Grocers at Oakland.

When Mr. F. M. VanSicklen, Manager of Dodge-Sweeney & Co., asks the question, "What's his balance?" he gets the information immediately. It's always there on the ledger leaf, even if the account in question is the most active in the ledgers.

And this is but one detail of the bookkeeping perfection that this Company has obtained through use of Burroughs Direct-to-Ledger Posting.

The Dodge-Sweeney & Co. is doing a volume of business that would require the services of at least two expert pen-and-ink bookkeepers—yet today one previously inexperienced young woman is handling the bookkeeping work without difficulty, with the aid of the Burroughs.

Ledgers are always posted up to the minute.

The work is accurate because addition, subtraction, and entry of amounts in the proper columns are done automatically by the machine.

Ledgers are uniformly neat and legible because the machine prints dates, folios, items, special characters and balances.

Postings are proved every day.

The trial balance is merely a matter of totaling balances already on the books.

Burroughs-made statements go out on the first and fifteenth of every month.

Why not let a Burroughs man investigate your system to determine if the machine method can be applied successfully on your books. If it cannot, he will tell you so frankly; if it can, he will show you how.
